

reforesting Scotland

Annual Gathering 2010

24-26 September

Torridon, Wester Ross

A fish swam through it

Based in and around Torridon

This year the Reforesting Scotland Annual Gathering is going to be held in the heart of the mountainous seascape of Torridon. An opportunity to meet fellow members, learn something about mountain & riparian woodlands and effects of their management on our salmonid fishery resources. Share your thoughts and experiences and be inspired in the Torridon landscape! Plant trees during a Mountain & Loch Torridon shoreline walk and talk accompanied by local residents, unravel and create the threads of discussions help to create new vision! Enjoy a Ceilidh

Friday: Registration at Torridon Village Hall Introductions .
An old film from Torridon.

Icebreaker \ A FISH SWAM THROUGH IT , Soapbox. Raise your own issues, projects, what you need from
'can give' to Reforesting Scotland.

Saturday: Presentations,
A FISH SWAM THROUGH IT, perspectives on watersheds, catchments, personal and community resources.
Refertilising Scotland mountain landscapes. rivers and lochs with special reference to the fishery resource in Wester Ross, ,
Tackling non-native species, and other work by the National Trust for Scotland in Torridon

Afternoon field trips,
* mountain and shoreline walk.
*Expedition with Fishery Biologist to look at local mountain landscape and riparian systems.
*Crofter forestry, river gorges . Local Food

The Torridon Inn (Kitchen garden walk) Evening meal,
CEILIDH BYOB Torridon Village Hall

Sunday Reforesting Scotland A.G.M.
THE RS BIG BLETHER

For further information and to book, contact Reforesting Scotland, 58 Shandwick Place, Edinburgh EH2 4RT Any enquiries to 0131 220 2500 or :
anna@reforestingscotland.org